A beautiful Colonial-type A&P Food Store opened its door in So. Duxbury on June 25. This is the first section on the site of the Duxbury Plaza located on Depot St. The grand opening was attended by local and visiting personalities with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The A&P is Early American in design and houses the latest and best in modern marketing convenience. Chester Leonardi, who has long served A&P shoppers in Duxbury, is the manager. Everett Estes is the meat department head and Arnold Snow the produce department head. There is a tremendous variety of fine foods at A&P's low prices colorfully displayed.

Robert Jordan, vice-president in charge of A&P in this area said: "We have recognized the need for greater shopping facilities to serve the shoppers of this area. We are pleased to offer shoppers of the South Shore this great new convenience. We are proud to be a part of the community and join in it's progress." There is a large area that provides plenty of parking directly adjacent to the store.

It is systematically striped for easy placement of cars.
